

An Old Recipe to Darken Hair

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turn Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease. — Advt.

ALL-NIGHT REVEL BRINGS CITY'S FETE OVER PEACE TO END

Broadway Again Ablaze, a Din of Bands, Tin Horns and Shouts of Thousands.

The last of the peace revelers did not desert Broadway until dawn dimmed the street lights early to-day. It had required twenty-four hours to reach the vanishing point in New York's second victory celebration. There are millions who will attest the success of both days.

Almost all night, Broadway had embraced millions. There were brass bands and hundreds of thousands of tin horns. On last Thursday it was believed nothing would ever surpass the glories of that demonstration. To-day it was admitted the assumption was a mistake. Monday, Nov. 11, was the most remarkable day New York ever saw. Its noisy start was a mere pop to the crash of its finish.

For the most part, the crowds were good natured. There were some disorder and rowdiness, but 2,000 policemen and 10,000 reserves, with 700 detectives, were ready at a moment's notice to meet any emergency. There was plenty of drinking, but not of ice water. It must be admitted. The toe water will come in handy to-day.

The theatres had a record-breaking night. Every playhouse, vaudeville theatre and movie in the city was packed. The Broadway houses could have sold out ten times over in many instances. Many paid unheard-of prices to speculators for seats.

Great outbursts greeted the playing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the national anthems of the Allies. In some theatres the Doxology was played before the performances. As soon as this music ended there were cheers for President Wilson, Marshal Foch and other leaders. In several instances soldiers and marines with wound stripes were carried into boxes, getting the best seats in the house.

And the churches received their share of the crowds. Far into the evening many churches were crowded, groups detaching themselves from the parades to slip into the quiet houses of worship.

Men, women and children, shedding confetti at every step and wreathed in gayly colored ribbon streamers, with muffled bells and silenced horns clasped tightly, knelt side by side with soldiers and sailors, many of whom wore the gold stripes of foreign service.

While Fifth Avenue, the east side, Harlem and the Bronx had their stupendous outpourings, it was Broadway that outdid itself.

Here was the greatest number of men, women, children, policemen, dogs, flags, ticklers, confetti, kisses, horns, shrieks, hugs, howls, smiles, laughs, happinesses, giggles, slappers, songs, hoarsenesses AND thirsts that have been collected in Broadway since the first cow first wandered over that well known cow-path.

A reserve line of mounted men was drawn up against the west curb of Longacre Square between 43d and 44th Streets. When the celebrators, who had a habit of forming chains by putting hands on the shoulders of the man or woman ahead, grew too violent, the mounted policemen rode into the press.

But the great crowd in Broadway, in 42d Street, in 14th Avenue, where the holiday yellow globes shone on a throng as big and noisy as that in Broadway, was the best-natured gathering imaginable. And the policemen were good-natured too, and as much smothered in confetti and tickled with ticklers as anybody—except men in army or navy uniform.

Saloons downtown and uptown closed their doors early and voluntarily.

CAPTURED GERMAN MOVIE.

American Rush Took It. Soldier
Audience and All, and Made It
Red Cross Post.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The Americans any of doing things was shown in the capture of a German movie picture house in the St. Michel sector which had been six miles back of the German lines. After two hours' hard fighting it was three miles behind the American front-line, and two hours later was a Red Cross outpost.

With it were taken 120 Germans, an entire motion picture outfit, piano and screen, and a German comedy reel. Within a few minutes after the Red Cross took charge 500 men were in line, being served with hot drinks, smoked and other supplies, and the captured place was kept quiet all day, while in a newly established writing room 400 soldiers were getting away their first letters since the drive started.

FIVE IN AUTO PARTY HURT.

Car in Crash With Brewery Truck on Broadway.

Three women and three men were injured, none seriously, at 6:30 o'clock this morning when an automobile in which they were driving collided at 73d Street and Broadway with a Lion brewery truck. All were taken to the Roosevelt hospital, but only Miss Anna Doherty of No. 319 West 44th Street, who suffered a lacerated scalp and face, remained for treatment.

The others, who returned to their homes, are: Harry Lubitz, thirty-two, and Agnes Say, nineteen, both of No. 17 Ninth Avenue; and Alexander Skatts, thirty-two; Lena Skatts, twenty-three, and Joseph Desmond, thirty, all of No. 510 West 44th Street.

IN FULL UNIFORM.

(From the Deadwood Pioneer Times.)
The company will appear in full uniform, minus the coats, hats, decorated with the regulation blue and white cords; trousers, shirts and army shoes.

A WORD of APPRECIATION

WHEN THE INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC was at its height, so many of our operators were absent that it was impossible to handle promptly all the telephone calls that were offered.

KNOWING that a word of explanation to the New York public would relieve the situation, we stated our case and asked our patrons to assist us by restricting their use of the telephone to necessary calls.

THE RESPONSE, as was expected, was immediate. Citizens' associations of all kinds, individual users both large and small, public telephone agents, in fact all classes of the telephone-using public gave us splendid cooperation.

THIS HELP was given cheerfully and willingly and the inconveniences were accepted with a good humor that greatly cheered those operators who were working so ably to carry the load during the absence of their fellow-workers.

WHILE MANY of our operators are still away and some restriction is still necessary on the general use of the telephone, the worst of a bad situation is now passed and we take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation of your kindly help.

THANK YOU!
